Triangle Opens Southeast Regional Distribution Center

(April 5, 2010) – Triangle Suspension Systems, Inc. has opened a regional distribution center in Morrow, GA, to serve the Southeast U.S. leaf spring and suspension market. Customers in Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee will be serviced from this new location.

Triangle President Rick Kempfski said opening the Georgia facility is one of many ongoing initiatives to enhance customer service. “Triangle offers thousands of spring and suspension parts, and this facility will stock a broad product line to provide the same day or next day delivery needed to repair an out-of-service vehicle,” he said.

The Morrow, GA distribution center will be open Monday through Friday from 8AM to 5PM and will operate with the same high standards as Triangle’s other distribution centers. This facility will provide same day shipping for orders received prior to 3PM and same day customer pickups. The warehouse is located at 6878 Kelly Ave. in Morrow.

George Koerner, Vice President of Distribution, said customers in the Southeast will see no changes to their ordering process, and that all customer service and technical support will continue to be provided from Triangle’s headquarters in DuBois, PA. “The only change customers will see is quicker response time and improved next day service,” he said.

Triangle Suspension Systems, Inc. manufactures leaf springs and distributes a wide array of related suspension components for medium- and heavy-duty trucks, tractors and trailers. Triangle has distribution centers in Oklahoma City, OK, Fontana, CA, and Dubois, PA. Triangle is a Marmon Highway Technologies/Berkshire Hathaway company. Marmon Highway Technologies (MHT) serves the heavy-duty highway transportation industry with a comprehensive line of products.
